

Faces of creating a government

Name: _____

Hour: _____ Date: _____

Directions:

Read over the historical leader you have been assigned. After reading draw a picture of the face of your leader in the outline provided. After you're done drawing write a description next to each of the leader's senses based on what you learned about the leader (sight, hear, feel, taste, and smell).

For example, if your assigned leader was George Washington you might say that George Washington sees that the new states are struggling under the Articles of Confederation. He still tastes the sweetness of victory in defeating the British in the Revolutionary War. Washington hears the uprising from citizens and the squashing of the unruly rebellions from the military. He feels the sweat on his brow from being the first president of the United States. He smells the bloodshed from when he served as colonel during the French and Indian War.

Each of these facts would go next to part of the face where this sense is used.

These will be hung up on display so make sure you put forth your best effort!

Faces of creating a government

Name: _____

Hour: _____ Date: _____

Directions:

Read over the historical leader you have been assigned. After reading draw a picture of the face of your leader in the outline provided. After you're done drawing write a description next to each of the leader's senses based on what you learned about the leader (sight, hear, feel, taste, and smell).

For example, if your assigned leader was George Washington you might say that George Washington sees that the new states are struggling under the Articles of Confederation. He still tastes the sweetness of victory in defeating the British in the Revolutionary War. Washington hears the uprising from citizens and the squashing of the unruly rebellions from the military. He feels the sweat on his brow from being the first president of the United States. He smells the bloodshed from when he served as colonel during the French and Indian War.

Each of these facts would go next to part of the face where this sense is used.

These will be hung up on display so make sure you put forth your best effort!